

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This is looking like a last minute smear in the closing days of the election.

The Sinclair position that they have invited Kerry to appear is completely off base. If the presentation is by a group of Vietnam vets who are upset with Kerry, then a group of Vietnam vets who are happy with Kerry's actions should also appear.

Kerry should obviously only appear if Bush appears.

I happen to be a Vietnam vet and a supporter of John Kerry for over 30 years.

But no, I would not appear on a Sinclair program.

I'm sure that there are those who would. I would suggest that they invite former US Senator from Georgia Max Cleland for one.
